

Where Woman Reigns Society and Clubs

In order to prevent impositions and embarrassments, the Tribune requests that persons leaving social notes, and especially marriage notices or engagements, for publication, leave with their names through which the source of the same may be traced if the matter is called in question.

The event of the week from a news standpoint was the marriage of the ex-Mrs. Frank J. Gould and Ralph Thomas. Both are immensely wealthy in their own right. At the same time came the news from "Gay Paree" that Frank had wedded Edith Kelly, an actress, which, by the way was the name of Mrs. Frank No. 1. The little Kellys who have been living with their aunt, Miss Helen Gould, were the conspicuous figures of the day, being watched by nine detectives to keep them from being spirited away to Europe with their mother. It might have been appropriate for the orchestra to have played the popular air, "His anyone here soda Kelly?" Miss Bessie De Voie, another actress, who sued Frank for breach of promise, did not appear in the east at this time. However, the vivid reports brought her into the limelight and hundreds of words were necessary to give the details which included the fact that every person concerned has loads of money, and each is happy in his or her way so the public is probably satisfied.

And speaking of New York society, upper case if you please, the local dwellers in our own diminutive Vanity Fair have been laughing their loudest over the rare conversation of a New York woman canvasser who has been making the rounds. This woman is securing memberships in a club which tells how to be nice and contains in its curriculum all the really correct forms of entertaining and deportment. The book is illustrated with pictures showing a "lady" eating soup with a spoon and a man eating it with a knife in a stooped shouldered posture. Now it happened that the canvasser met three women during the week, women who entertain every week and are noted for their delightful affairs although they do not live in New York. The club and its aims were expounded and then came the book with its lavish display of illustrations showing the soup episode and many others. The Salt Lake women could not get in a word, but at the end of the lecture the proper usages, all they could say was "we really have not the time to read it," or "we cannot possibly join the club for you know we do so little entertaining." And the New York woman is evidently under the impression that this is really and truly a benighted land.

Down at the Country club recently were four guests of the evening who are representative of New York's leading social set. The contrast in dress and general appearance between the visitors and some two dozen prominent Salt Lake women of varying ages and complexions was most apparent. The easterners wore Copenhagen shoes with the string ties while the local men had tan or patent leather Oxfords with road silk ties. The New Yorkers wore light suits that were evidently made by a Liverpool tailor that were baggy as the trousers and short and saggy as the coat, while the "Bugged westerners" were groomed in the latest white flannel or blue serge. The linen and hats were also noteworthy comparisons and the effect of the whole was voiced in the remark of one of the women present who said: "For a badly dressed man show me the New Yorker away from home. He seems to think that leaving Broadway is crossing the Rubicon of fashion."

And these men, as stated, were representative New Yorkers. They represent men and the easterners can always be picked by their outward appearance. In their offices at home, in their motor trips, visits to the various clubs, the church or opera they are the best dressed men in the world, but when on tour outside Manhattan the Liverpool weeds, the Copenhagen shoes and all the comic opera costume seems to be the were Mr. and Mrs. William Reid and children, Mrs. Kenneth Kerr and children, Mrs. Lester Freed and son, Mrs. Ashby Cleveland and son. They will be away some weeks.

Lester Freed is in the East on business.

Mrs. Eugene L. Wille has gone to the Northwest.

Mrs. Lee Jones is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Harry Eaton, in Los Angeles.

George and Park Dover left Wednesday for Oakland, Cal., to make their home with their sister.

Marro Van Cott returned home Friday after spending two weeks with his sister, Mrs. Nevin, in Los Angeles.

Miss Selden of New York is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. G. P. Stallman of Fort Douglas.

Mrs. Claude Williams returned Monday afternoon, after a three months' visit at the coast.

Alden Brinton left during the week for Wyoming to spend two weeks on a ranch.

Mrs. A. A. Bird and little daughter, Helen, have returned from Pacific Grove, Cal., where they have been since the early winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hale have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. James O'Grady of Rochester, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Browning of Globe, Ariz., are the guests for two weeks of Mrs. Browning's mother, Mrs. Villa Fenton.

Mrs. A. Frank and children have gone to Springfield for a few days to visit Mrs. M. Miesel.

Mrs. H. J. Fitzgerald has returned from a month's visit in Denver and Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Leroy G. Dinwoodey and family leave soon for Silver Lake to spend the summer.

Mrs. S. D. Evans has for her guest for a short time Mrs. Andrews MacQuig of Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cosgriff and family, who have been spending some time on the Atlantic coast, are now in Cheyenne, where they will spend some little time before returning to their home in Salt Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Malia are for the present at home at 82 O street.

The Misses Lottie and Ada Barnes are visiting in Park City.

Miss Ida Friedman has returned to her home in Salt Lake after four months' trip to the coast, and has for her guest Miss Minnie Albert of Oakland.

A charming visitor is Miss Margaret Baebie, who is passing the summer with her aunt, Mrs. F. E. McGurkin.

Quite a large camping party left during the week for Le Grand Young's camp on the upper Weber. Included

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hubbard have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Runyon of Kansas City.

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Leidl of Minneapolis were in the city Saturday, the guests of J. E. Crowley. Dr. and Mrs. Leidl are enjoying an extended honeymoon trip.

Mrs. George E. Walker, who has been ill at a hospital for some weeks, has been moved to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crane, of East South Temple street.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Savage and children leave today for Willow Dell, Wyo., to spend the summer.

Mrs. Marial Strode Leiberman, an exceptionally talented newspaper contributor and the author of the beautifully written little book, "My Book of Prayer," arrived in the city Friday night from her home in Chicago, and is the guest of Col. and Mrs. Birch of the Cass Contention. Mr. Leiberman came here for his health about two weeks ago and for that time has also been the guest of Col. and Mrs. Birch.

Dr. D. Moor Lindsay and Edward Packard left Saturday evening for New York via the lakes. Dr. Lindsay will go to London to return later with his family.

Mrs. R. C. Easton is at Silver Lake with the family of Prof. George M. Marshall. Later she will visit Mrs. H. G. Whitney. Mrs. Easton is a welcome guest and since her long residence in New York her friends have been following her literary career with interest.

The Pryor cottage at Silver Lake holds a merry crowd.

Miss Nell Creech left Saturday for Pocatello to visit Mrs. Frank Madden. Miss Aileen Creech also left the city for a visit to the Misses Smith of Milford.

Miss Amy Farnsworth delightfully entertained Saturday evening.

Mrs. G. P. Woodhall left for Denver to attend the funeral of Mr. Woodhall's mother. Mr. Woodhall, who is a civil engineer of the Short Line, will meet her in Ogden and go with her to Denver.

Salt Lake club women will be pleased to hear that Mrs. C. H. McMahon has returned after an extended Eastern trip. Mrs. McMahon also brings back word that the conditions in regard to holding the biennial convention in 1912 are favorable in the extreme.

The T. O. N. O. club pleasantly entertained at a party at the lake Friday evening. A dainty supper was served in the evening, covers being laid for thirty. The decorations were carried out in the club colors, red and green, sweet peas and nasturtiums being used in artistic array. Later in the evening dancing was enjoyed.

Members of the old Delta Sigma local fraternity of the university of Utah enjoyed an informal banquet Friday evening at the Cullen hotel in the event of a social reunion. The old organization ceased to be known under the name of Delta Sigma when, on August 22, 1903, its members were installed into the national Sigma Chi fraternity. The Beta Epsilon chapter, instituted by the installation at Sigma Chi rock on Antelope island, is the first and only chapter of a national fraternity at the university of Utah. The members of the old Delta Sigma chapter are comparatively few, as they were the youngest of the three local fraternities at the time of their installation. They have now all passed from the university and are scattered by business pursuits, so that a reunion was greatly appreciated. Remarks and toasts were heard from all the men concerning reminiscences of the old chapter and the present affairs of the new. The members in attendance were: W. C. Browning, E. T. Cannon, J. E. Alley, Earle Benning, H. M. Alley, C. W. Scott, A. G. Dyer, Hugh C. Lewis, L. A. Blackner, Allan Spencer, R. A. Hart, Branson Brinton, Earl Havenor, C. Y. Cannon.

The home of Mrs. Clinton Ray on K street was the scene Thursday evening of a pretty surprise party when Miss Fay Weller entertained fifteen of her friends in honor of Mrs. Ray's sister, Miss Grace Whitaker. Music and games were features of the evening, dainty refreshments being served later. The decorations were in pink and white sweet peas.

Miss Irene Delaney entertained at a lawn party Wednesday evening for the members of the Asiatum and the Undine clubs. The colors were in yellow and white and many Japanese lanterns were used.

Word comes from Chicago that Mrs. R. H. Terhune has announced the engagement of her daughter Pauline and Parker Gilbert Stevens.

The engagement is announced of Miss Viola Brim and James P. Bridges.

The engagement is announced of Miss Carrie Sorenson and Paul H. Stain.

One of the prettiest weddings of the week was that of Miss Edna Camomile and Don L. Lenzi.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ridd announce the engagement of their daughter Ruth to Varsel Hammond.

Miss Ina Barton and Ralph Radcliffe were married in York, Pa., recently and will reside there. The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. Barton.

But what you GET for what you pay."

rule although it is not unavoidable and is unpardonable.

The week witnessed the usual emigration to the canyons. Locally there was little doing in the way of entertaining, a few bright little dinners or luncheons with motor trips to various cool retreats being the only diversion. The city will be very dull for some weeks to come but this week will be bright for the younger set with two Country club dances.

The dancing party to be given by the Misses Bryan and Grizelle Houston promises to be one of the leading social features at the Country club Wednesday evening.

A large and brilliant social affair of tomorrow night will be the dancing party to be given by the Misses Margaret Walker, Margaret Dunn and Norrin Thompson.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Sherman were welcomed during the week.

Herbert Tuttle has been the guest of the Wallaces at The Porches.

Miss Bessie Niles is the guest of Captain and Mrs. Platt at Benicia barracks.

Samuel Newhouse entertained at dinner Wednesday evening for Miss Rhodes.

Mrs. Dana T. Smith has gone to Silver Lake.

Mrs. F. J. Fabian and Harold Fabian have returned from the East.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Woodbridge have gone to Nevada.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard W. Reed have gone to Colorado for a short visit.

Mrs. William G. Sharp is in the city.

A charming visitor is Miss Margaret Baebie, who is passing the summer with her aunt, Mrs. F. E. McGurkin.
